SHIP ARRIVAL—PORT NEWS.

"Glasgow" in the City Cemetery may be seen a beautiful model of a full rigged ship riding at anchor.

is about fifteen feet long, and every spur, and appointment is in perfect accord. This unique and pleasing ornament to our "City of the dead" will be viewed with great interest by visitors

to this lovely spot, both adult and juvenile.

This ship is the result of the careful and laborious work of our esteemed citizen, Mr. A. P. C. Bryan, who is most appropriately styled among us

the "children's friend."

Mr. Bryan was formerly a sea captain and our landlubbers can therefore understand that all the appurtenances of the vessel are in "ship shape."

To many of our people who have never seen

a full-rigged ship except in the picture books, this will be an interesting sight.

All the boys are notified now, that they must look at but not interfere in any way with the boat as the rigging is very easily broken or put out of shape.

This notification is sufficient for the boys when we add that if the boat is injured Mr. Bryan's inability will be "ruined" a little. He is so good natured

he can't get very mad.

If the boys of Raleigh had the voting

right to do in November, Greely and Grant might prudently withdraw.

THE DAILY NEWS.

YARDBOROUGH HOUSE,

G. W. BLACKNALL, PROP.

Raleigh, May 14, 1872.

The Tribune to-morrow publishes the following card:

The Tribune ceases to be a party organ, but the unexpected nomination at Cincinnati seems to involve it in new embarrassment, and all must be aware that the position of a journalist, who is at the same time a candidate, is at its best, irksome and difficult, that he is fettered in his actions, and restrained in his criticism by a knowledge whatever he may say or do is closely scanned by thousands, eager to find in it what may be so interpreted as to annoy or perplex those who are supporting him as a candidate, and to whom his slackened condition will not permit him to be serviceable to them.

The undersigned therefore, withdraws absolutely from the conduct of the Tribune, and will henceforth, until further notice, exercise no control nor supervision over its columns.

(Signed,) HORACE GREELEY.

INDIRECT DAMAGES.

The United States Senate have now under consideration a message from President Grant, embodying a proposition to withdraw the claim on the part of the United States for consequential damages, before the Geneva arbitrators, with the understanding on the part of England that, hereafter, that Government will not make a similar claim against the United States. The United States and England, if this proposition be agreed to, will in future make no demand against each other in case of war with other nations, except for actual damages committed by either, on the commercial interests of the other. Thus another Administration bubble has burst.

JUDGE MERRIMON'S SPEECH.

We conclude in to-day's issue, the speech made by Judge Merrimon at Greensboro, on accepting the nomination for Governor.

It was reported especially for the News, by Rev. Needham B. Cobb, ste. nographer, but has been revised by Judge Merrimon.

Our WEEKLY NEWS, published to-morrow, will contain the speech in full and also the full proceedings of the Baptist Convention.

HANDLING THE BONDS.

We yesterday, gave the record of C. H. Brogden, the Radical candidate for Lieutenant Governor, in regard to the Investigating Committee, to look into the Littlefield frauds. To day, we publish below, the testimony of Col. Humphreys, before the Shipp Investigating Committee, and also Brogden's explanation of the $10,000 bonds which Col. Humphreys swears positively Brogden told him he had at the time he asked Humphrey to sign his bond as Collector. The italics are our own. Let the people read, and put their own construction on the whole case.

The Radical leaders who at first treated the Cincinnati movement as a huge joke, and who joined in the movement at the first tidings of Greeley's nomination, have recently taken terrible scare, and are casting about for some means to save their party from the inevitable overthrow which stares them in the face.

The withdrawal of Grant is not only hinted at in certain Radical circles, which were heretofore intensely loyal to the present-taker, but the question is being seriously discussed by the leading supporters of the Administration.

With a view to reconciliation and to heal the breach in the Radical ranks, it has been suggested that if both Greeley and Grant withdraw, a third man might be selected who would pour oil on the troubled waves and unite the divided elements that have split asunder the Radical party.

"A. I am not certain as to the month, but very soon after Mr. Brogden was appointed Collector for the 2nd District he called to see me in my office, and as he walked in my back room I remarked to him that it was a very good thing he had been appointed Revenue Collector, otherwise I supposed he would have been a candidate for Congress and got beaten. This was the first word spoken by me as he walked in. He remarked "I am not so sure about the Collector's place, for I don't know that I can give my bond. I have called in to see if I can get you to become surety on my bond."

I told him I could not become his surety. He remarked "he had $10,000 in North Carolina bonds, which he would deposit with me as collateral, and that he had money in the hands of John G. Williams, a banker of Raleigh, to buy more, which he would also deposit. I declined to become his surety then. He then said: "I think this will indemnify you against all loss, and if you will sign with me I think I can get Mr. Faircloth to go on my bond, and that will make it a good bond."

I declined to sign at all. I held a note on Gen. Brogden for several hundred dollars, the amount not recollected, but which was not then due. Gen. Brogden said he had money on hand, and if I would agree to a discount, he would pay me the cash. I agreed to do so, and he paid me.

(Signed.) L. W. HUMPHREY."

As we do not wish to do Brogden any injustice, we publish his side of the question. In explanation of this matter of bonds, Brogden in his sworn testimony before the Fraud Commission, see page 532-533, says: "I then asked Col. H. (Humphreys) if he would be willing to sign my bond with me, if I were determined to accept the office, if I were to deposit $10,000 of bonds as collateral security, to indemnify him against any possible loss. He immediately declined to do so. I did not have the ten bonds at that time, and I merely made the suggestion in jest, not in reality, not having any idea of accepting the office."

THE STATE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

It will be seen by the notice in our editorial columns, that Hon. D. M. Barringer, chairman, has called a meeting of the State Executive Committee of the Democratic-Conservative party, to be held in this city, on June the 7th proximo, not July the 7th, as erroneously printed in our article yesterday, calling attention to the notice.

Gen. Barringer has wisely chosen the time, for by the 7th of June all the Congressional nominations will have been made, and the Committee will be able to act advisedly and discreetly.

The most important duty that will devolve upon the State Executive Committee will be the selection of four Delegates from the State at large, to attend the National Democratic Convention, to be held in Baltimore on the ninth day of July. The selection of two Delegates from each District will devolve upon the Congressional nominating Conventions.

In the selection of Delegates to Baltimore, representative men should be chosen. The wisdom of age and the progressive vigor of youth should alike be consulted; and both of these elements should be combined in the choice of Delegates.

Gen. Barringer has also very properly decided not to have the appointments of Presidential Electors made by the Committee until after the Baltimore Convention. This is well.

We venture the suggestion that it would perhaps be advisable for the District Conventions, also, to postpone any action in regard to the selection of Electors for their respective Districts until after the 9th of July. We make this suggestion for the reason that the great political revolution now going on in the country, and the constantly shifting panorama in the political world, make it impossible to say what will be the policy that may be adopted at Baltimore.

Nothing can be lost by caution and deliberation.

WILL GRANT WITHDRAW?

That there are influences being brought to bear on President Grant, with the view to induce him to withdraw his name as a candidate for the Presidency, admits scarcely of a doubt. How far these influences will affect the man of "iron will," remains to be seen.

The Radical leaders who at first treated the Cincinnati movement as a huge joke, and who joined in the movement at the first tidings of Greeley's nomination, have recently taken terrible scare, and are casting about for some means to save their party from the inevitable overthrow which stares them in the face.

The town of Bristol, which stands partly in Tennessee and partly in Virginia, has a very convenient situation for criminals. The State line runs through the principal street of the city, and in former times, when the spirit of Southern chivalry was high, it was no uncommon thing for a spirited cavalier to shoot an objectionable companion and walk across the street out of reach of the law whence nothing but aquisition upon the Governor of the State could fetch him back. Now they are not quite so frolicsome, and a policeman will go across the street to capture a criminal.

The expedition which sailed from Sydney to New Guinea, in search of gold, has been wrecked and forty seven of the party are missing. Some landed on an island, but were violently attacked and killed by the natives.

Two thousand seven hundred and sixty-six houseless persons, of both sexes, obtained lodgings during last week in the various station houses of New York.

Col. W. E. Cameron, one of the most brilliant writers in Virginia, has temporarily withdrawn from the editorial policy of the Petersburg Progress.

Edward A. Pollard writes a letter of three columns to the Lynchburg Virginian, urging the South to support Greeley.

Prince Bismarck, in addition to his multitude of honors, has had diplomas of honorary citizenship conferred upon him by forty-seven German cities.

John Partington, of New York, committed suicide Saturday night by taking laudanum.

(Reported for the Daily News, Speech of Judge Merrimon Before the Greensboro Convention, on the 2nd of May, 1872.)

(CONCLUDED.)

This radical and envious feeling, this war upon the Constitution and liberty, and the prostration of the taxing power of the government, is persistent, and it exists everywhere in the land; it is practiced by the Radical party in the administration of the Federal Government, and in a like persistent manner in the State governments as well, in pursuance of the reconstruction to which I have alluded, this State was by force and the sword virtually placed in the hands of strangers from the Northern States, commonly called "carpet-baggers," a class of creatures unfit to live or die—men without ability for the most part, except for evil, without character, property or influence at home or abroad, moral and political lepers, the very vomit of northern society, [applause.] These men organized the negro race against the white race by means of the most false and disgraceful, and by their efforts a few negroes and some degenerate, and for the most part, ignorant and corrupt voters, white men, and themselves, got possession of the State government and administered it in a way, monstrous and in a manner that has no parallel in the history of modern times.

Through their government and by their co-operation the constitution and laws were absolutely suspended.—Scores and hundreds of citizens were arrested without any warrant or authority and by means of a mercenary armed force organized for that express purpose, and tens of thousands of dollars were drawn from the treasury without any lawful authority for that purpose, and the records of the times show a deliberate and huge conspiracy of the three co-ordinate departments of the State government to accomplish this diabolical end.

This Radical administration administered the State government on a scale of extravagance that has no precedent among us; scores of useless officers and place-men were provided, and all of them were paid high and enormous salaries. Men, notorious for their ignorance, incompetency and general profligacy were placed in high judicial, executive positions; crime has been dignified and made a qualification for fitness for office and place, and the guilty have gone unwhipped of criminal justice.

This is not all—the taxing power has been prostituted in a manner at once shocking, astounding and infamous! At a time of desolation and universal impoverishment, while we had public debt amounting to many millions of dollars, and there was no ability of the people to pay the interest on that debt, the radical officials of the State, of high and low design, by combinations and conspiracies unheard of, undertook to increase the public debt over $26,000,000! By fraudulent combinations and devices the bonds of the State issued put upon the market, and that vast sum, less than $500,000 have gone into our public works. The credit of the State is prostrate and ruined for the present, and all the public works are virtually suspended.

Repeatedly, plain statutes in the statute book have been suspended and expressly and wilfully disregarded, and thousands of dollars have been expended to pay legal counsel for professional services that ought to have been rendered by law officers provided by the Constitution and laws. The Attorney General of the State has been wilfully and repeatedly ignored by those officers whose legal adviser he was by the Constitution, and because he would not favor the views of Radical officials. This course of action has been practiced constantly and persistently in the interests of the Radical party of the State.

The ruinous and fatal results of this misrule, this war upon the Constitution, liberty and the people by an irresponsible party organization, through it corrupt officials and leaders, can scarcely be measured. The evil is wide spread and deep. The general public demoralization is alarming to every patriot and friend of humanity and civilization. Public confidence is destroyed, there is no faith in the government, there is less in those who administer it, they are a by-word and laughing stock, a hissing and a blast; who that hears me is not painfully sensible of the truths of what I have said? The facts that justify it are abundant and potent to every body.

I ask if it is not absolutely necessary the people should do something to stem this torrent of political ruin. The people see and feel these evils—they are resolved to work relief. What means this tremendous concourse of the representative men of the State of every class and interest? The like was never seen before, the people are moving, they will have reform, they will make it!

The hotel will continue open for the reception of the traveling public, and the hotel keepers, and the manager, to call upon me. My terms will be moderate. MRS. M. R. BROWNLOW.

The Raleigh Daily News.

WEDNESDAY MAY 15, 1872.

REMEMBER, BOYS MAKE MEN.

When you see a ragged urchin
Standing wistful in the street,
With torn hat and kneeless trowsers,
Dirty face and skin reddened—
Pass him by and let him mope—
Smile upon him, Mark me—when
He's grown he'll not forget it,
For, remember, boys make men.

When the buoyant youthful spirits
Overflow in boyish glee—
Cling you to your mother's accents—
Do not in your anger speak—
You must sow in youthful bosoms
Seeds of tender mercy; then
Plant with care, and you will reap good fruitage—
When the erring lead, men.

Have you never seen a grandpa,
With his eyes aglow with joy—
Bring to mind some act of kindness—
Something said to him a boy?
Or when some bright or other news,
With a boy's all-true, will do,
He said they were too thoughtful—
To remember boys make men?

Let us try to add a me pleasure—
To the life of every boy,
For each child needs tender interest
In its sorrow and its joy—
Call the boy to your bosom—brightness—
They avoid a gloomy den,
And seek for comfort elsewhere;
And remember, boys make men.
